The Art Harvest Studio Tour

In addition to the regular weekend hours, many of the studios are open mid-week—this year October 7th, 8th and 9th—for scheduled student tours. This is a wonderful opportunity for students of all ages to experience art, see how and where it is made, and meet the artists who create it. Some studios also offer hands-on art making experiences and demonstrations.

The Art Harvest Student Studio Tour is free, due in part to a grant from the Collins Foundation. We can assist schools with reimbursements for buses, mileage used to take the students on the scheduled tours and substitute teachers to allow regular teachers or school staff to accompany students on the tour.

Thanks to the generosity of the Collins Foundation, the Arts Alliance Art Harvest Studio Tour is able to partner with Yamhill County Schools to provide a truly unique visual art experience. It is hoped the Student Tour will be the catalyst to help spark students' talents, interest and endeavors in the arts.

A+!
